can do antenatal health visits to help prepare you for your new parenting role by demonstrating a variety of techniques including how to bath your baby, breastfeeding advice and sleeping positions. After your baby has arrived I can visit and work with you and your baby to establish breastfeeding and other routines and answer all those new parent questions you may have.

So, if you feel that you would like that little bit of extra something... then contact me for bespoke health visiting to see how I can complement your parenting to meet your baby's needs. I provide telephone consultations or one-to-one personalised home visits at days and times that are not just Monday-Friday 9-5pm.

I cover London and the Greater London area.

Bébégrow services are charged based on the service you require. A quote will be provided at your point of enquiry.
